

Internship <Cloud Security>

Description

Is IT Security your passion? Are you ready to tackle the challenges of Cloud Security? We are looking forward inviting you to join our best industry experts in the journey of tackling cyber threats, espionage and data loss prevention.

You will investigate the products and services of Cloud Security to meet the growing demand in monitoring and control, compliancy and regulatory standards. You will assess proactive and reactive Cloud Security strategies and the technological impact for business and IT. It is an exciting opportunity to dive into various technologies and seek the answers of the future Cloud Security demand.

Accenture will help you by providing access to subject matter experts, internal research done in this field, and contacts with our clients to conduct interviews and collect data.

We encourage candidates to develop their own research questions in the area of Cloud Migration, which meets both academic demands and Accenture interests.
